How We Support Your Employee Volunteering Program

Understand Your Goals

- Learn your employee engagement strategy
- Identify priority issue areas and locations
- Recommend the right engagement model

Identify Trusted Partners

- Source local nonprofits with experience in corporate volunteer coordination
- Match partners to your business objectives
- Evaluate organizational readiness and capacity

Prepare for Success

- Align volunteer activities with corporate expectations
- Develop partner guidance and planning materials
- Support onboarding and program coordination

Manage the Relationship

- Coordinate planning with nonprofit partners
- Monitor implementation and communications
- Help resolve challenges throughout the engagement

Measure Impact

- Collect volunteer participation metrics
- Provide post-event reporting
- Capture outcomes and lessons learned

If employee volunteer activities are paired with grant funding, Give2Asia can also facilitate compliant grantmaking as part of an integrated employee engagement strategy.

Why Employee Volunteering in China Requires Local Expertise

Employee volunteer programs in China often require additional coordination beyond traditional corporate volunteer initiatives.

Challenges may include:

- Coordinating activities across multiple corporate office locations
- Identifying qualified nonprofit organizations with volunteer management experience
- Navigating differing corporate compliance and reporting requirements
- Supporting nonprofits unfamiliar with international corporate volunteer expectations
- Ensuring any associated grant funding complies with applicable regulations governing overseas philanthropy

Why Give2Asia

Deep Local Network

Our China Representative Office and on-the-ground local staff maintains long-standing relationships with nonprofit organizations across China, allowing us to identify partners that align with your corporate objectives.

Strategic Advisory

We don't simply coordinate volunteer events—we help build sustainable relationships between companies and local organizations that can support long-term employee engagement.

Cross-Border Expertise

Our team combines local market knowledge with decades of experience managing international philanthropy, helping companies navigate both corporate expectations and local operating environments.

Integrated Giving Solutions

When volunteer programs include charitable contributions or matching funds, Give2Asia can integrate grantmaking support with volunteer engagement to provide a seamless experience for your company and nonprofit partners.

Flexible Platform Partnerships

We also work alongside employee engagement and volunteering platforms to onboard nonprofit partners, enabling employees to discover volunteer opportunities and continue supporting organizations through future giving and engagement.
